

My testimonial of Gina Ward:

As an educator, Gina is both brilliant and original. She brings to her work a consummate professionalism. As an individual, her integrity is above reproach. She tends to be a gift to any child/parent that has the opportunity to work with her.

The beauty of Gina is that while her talents are many, her life's passion calls her to simply pass them on.

As a mother of two young boys, our lives are forever richer for the time spent under her care and direction.

I have known Gina for the past 12 years. We initially met when my then preschooler was having behavioral difficulties in his Mother's Morning Out class. We enrolled our son in Gina's Montessori preschool, and soon found her advice and help invaluable. Gina helped us devise a program that would develop appropriate social skills in our son, both at home and out in the community. She approached this task with compassion and straight forwardness, giving specific directions for handling difficult behaviors without judgement. Her respect for children and her acceptance of their individuality is clearly evident in her approach to behavior management. Our son is now a High School honor student who is heavily involved in team sports and has a very active social life. We are thankful for Gina's help in shaping his social growth and helping guide him down the right road in such a positive and caring manner. Her calm demeanor, connection with children and ability to articulate and demonstrate practical solutions are skills that any parent and child could benefit from.
